Philippians

A Cole Ministries Study

Reading other folks' mail is not usually a good idea, but reading Paul's letter to his dear friends in Philippi is most certainly a very good idea! Not only do we have the counsel of God given to us through His apostle Paul, but we also can benefit greatly by listening in to the way Paul relates to his friends and collaborators, the way he copes with hard circumstances and difficult people, and the way he looks at life and at himself. And we can see how Paul exhorts his dear friends, and therefore us, to live life fully in Christ.

Our Covenant Keeping God

Ezra & Haggai

Esther

By Kay Arthur

Both Precept upon Precept or In & Out versions available

Ezra & Haggai-Israel lost their nationhood when God disciplined them for their idolatry and disobedience to the Law. His people were taken into exile but God would remember His covenant and bring His people back to the land of the patriarch's promise. Experience what it's like when God places His hand on the lives of His people in Ezra and Haggai to prove He is the promise-keeping God.

Esther-God also reveals Himself as the great promise keeper in Esther. In Mordecai's words to Esther: "If you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place and you and your father's house will perish" (Esther 4:14). Mordecai's words reflected his faith that God would honor His eternal covenant with Abraham and David. God's people would not be extinguished out of existence because Messiah was to come through the Jewish people. Esther attained royalty for "such a time as this". She allowed God to use her in difficult situations. Are you willing to do the same?

Through stories of Old Testament heroes and practices, the author of Hebrews demonstrates how the New Covenant is superior to the old and how Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of every promise. Explore familiar verses in context of the entire Bible, learning how to place your hope and faith in Christ alone.
